The manufacturer of packaging and automation systems of medical materials, equipment and processes has built a new European service and distribution centre in the French-speaking part of Switzerland. The open-plan rooms in the concept of the architects' office promotes staff encounters and interactions.

In a lounge, there are working areas for small tasks that have to be dealt with. Swivel office chairs: open up. Photos on this page © DEGW: right by Bruno Helbling, all others by Inga Poweillit
